

Facing History and Ourselves? Holocaust and Human Behavior. Watertown, Massachusetts: Intentional Educations, Inc., 1982

| Strom, Margot Stern

A curriculum produced by the Facing History foundation, designed as a tool for moral education targeting "hatred, prejudice, racism and indifference" through study of the history of Nazi Germany and the Holocaust, Though not designed specifically for religious education, religious educators and their students will benefit from its use.