

The Mystery of Romans: The Jewish Context of Paul's Letter. Minneapolis, MN: Fortress Press, 1996

| Nanos, Mark D.

Presuppositions guide interpretation. Readers of Romans have presumed that the Christians whom Paul addressed were not meeting with the Jews in the synagogues of that city. It is a presumption difficult to detect and seemingly innocuous. Nanos rejects it. The result is a different reading of Romans and a changed understanding of Paul's relationship to the Law.