

Documentary Video on Christian-Jewish Relations Available

09.11.2001

A two-hour television special on Christian-Jewish relations that has been shown widely on Public Television in the United States is now available as a video.

Documentary Video on Christian-Jewish Relations Available

A two-hour television special on Christian-Jewish relations that has been shown widely on Public Television in the United States is now available as a video. Entitled 'Jews and Christians: A Journey of Faith,' the program features interviews with leading scholars and activists in the field, including Mary Boys, James Charlesworth, James Dunn, Eugene Fisher, Irving Greenberg, Leon Klenicki, Goran Larsson, Amy Jill Levine, David Rosen, James Rudin, Krister Stendahl, and others. The program was inspired by the book Our Father Abraham: The Jewish Roots of the Christian Faith, by Marvin Wilson. Besides interviews, the video includes footage of Christians and Jews engaged in living room dialogues and visiting one another's houses of worship, as well as touring biblical sites in Israel. The documentary received the 2001 'Silver Angel' award from Excellence in Media. A study guide is available. More Information.