

Faithfulness in an Age of Holocaust, Warwick, NY: Amity House, 1986

| Ellis, Marc

The first of a trilogy in which Ellis takes issue with other Jewish theologians by suggesting that Holocaust theology has failed in one major respect, because of its failure to analyze the contemporary use of power, now passed into Jewish hands in Israel.